Job Description:

Come help OIT plan a UC Merced Connect Hackathon in Spring 2022! The UC Merced Connect Hackathon Intern is responsible for first mastering the basics of the (no-coding-required) platform upon which UC Merced Connect is built, then planning and executing a multi-day Student Hackathon in which UCM students will brainstorm and build new app functionality. Work alongside creative and technical professionals from the Office of Information Technology as you develop professional skills, test your ability to master new technology, design outcome-driven trainings, create effective documentation and successful marketing materials...all culminating in the execution of a large-scale campus event.

Job Tasks:

- * master the basics of the app platform on which UC Merced Connect is built
- * develop outcome-based training sessions/materials to effectively train student teams on platform basics
- * create, propose, and execute an event resource plan including scope, budget, and logistics
- * assist in the development of a marketing & communications plan for event promotion
- * conduct & hackathon evaluations and assessments

Additional Tasks:

Good written, oral, and visual communication skills required. Some experience with logistical planning and technical platforms preferred.
